Conference Overview

This conference is designed to bring together traditional payments and operations content with the growing risk management issues that touch each of us daily. We hope this new twist to our traditional Payments Conference and Audit, Security and Compliance Conference will provide you an opportunity to learn more about the dynamic changes happening in the payments industry, and how to ensure your corporate is safeguarded from the risks related to these and other activities. In addition to general sessions appealing to all participants, you will have two tracks to choose from to customize your content and optimize your time with us. As part of the tracks, we'll have roundtable discussions to focus on key topics we learn from the general sessions and create meaningful action items to take back to our corporates.
