ENPRIA AND VITAL INSIGHT TEAM TO SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER GOVERNANCE COSTS

Strategic Partnership for Risk Management and Corporate Governance

Austin, Texas – May 29, 2007 – Vital Insight - a leading provider of advanced Risk Management and Corporate Governance solutions, today announced that Enpria has joined its Consulting Partner Program. Governance experts Enpria and Vital Insight announced their joint product-service offering which is designed to significantly lower the cost of implementing government mandated compliance initiatives. Aimed squarely at optimizing value by controlling the costs of implementation and maintenance requirements of Sarbanes-Oxley, Graham-Leach-Bliley, Basel II, PCI and the like, both firms have harvested the power of industry's best practices and tuned them to the special needs of the small to medium size business.

"Placing such powerful software in the hands of experienced delivery experts simply made sound engineering and business sense. Working with the Vital Insight team has allowed us to more closely synchronize Finance and IT organizations by fostering a new degree of cooperation based on a common vision" said Russell Ervin, Enpria Partner and Co-founder. Ervin went on to say "that this cooperation significantly lowers the costs previously forecast for implementing internal control processes and boosts the return from mandated regulatory compliance initiatives, optimizing business processes, and delivering year after year repeatability. We've been searching for a complete product offering for our compliance customers for some time, with Vital Insight our search is now over."

"Bringing Enpria on board as the latest addition to our Partner Program broadens our reach to include the Pacific North West," said Alan White, President and CEO. "Enpria's Governance Practice has specialized for the past 4 years in providing the most cost effective and direct bridge between Finance and IT. Their long history of delivering projects on time and under budget in the compliance arena is what captured our attention", continued White. "Their expert consultants coupled with our robust software solution make a powerful combination unlike any I've seen for the past 10 years."
